ServSafe©
Food Safety Manager Training

Gloucester County College is proud to offer the nationally recognized ServSafe© food safety manager training and exam in a reduced hour format. We are proud to offer this training at our Rowan University Partner in the Enterprise Center located on Rowan Boulevard in Glassboro, NJ.

ServSafe© meets the needs of State and Federal food laws and regulations, and recognizes program completers as certified Food Safety Managers. The ServSafe© program was developed by restaurant and food service experts for food safety professionals. It sets the standard with comprehensive food safety training and an accredited certification examination.

Our experience shows! Thousands of food safety professionals have participated in Gloucester County College's ServSafe© Training Program. Now at Rowan University!

What does the training cover?

Through the ServSafe© training course you will learn the standards for maintaining a safe and healthy food service environment, including:

- Keeping food safe from food borne illness
- Time and temperature controls
- Proper hygiene techniques
- Cross-contamination, sanitation, cleaning
- Proper workplace flow
- Pest control and other hazards of operations

At the end of the second training day participants take the ServSafe© exam.

Who should participate in this training?

Individuals working in any type of food service business including restaurants, retail food markets, vendors, caterers, day-care centers, nursing homes, schools, etc., will benefit from this training and certification.

Is ServSafe© available in languages other than English?

Yes, please call 856-468-2217 for information on our Spanish only training sessions.

On Line Refresher Program Now Available!

Our on line food safety manager refresher program is ideal for previously certified individuals who need to renew certification. Certificates typically expire in five years but some employers require recertification every three years. The on line refresher is available in English, Spanish, and Chinese. Call us at 856-468-5000, Ext. 5503 for more information about our on line refresher for food safety managers.

The 8-hour training session includes the exam and book for a total cost of $199.
